

- 1. Advocacy and Representation: Members benefit from collective advocacy efforts on regulatory and policy issues affecting the animal feeds industry. The association represents members' interests in discussions with government agencies and other stakeholders.
- 2. Networking Opportunities: Members have access to a network of industry professionals, facilitating partnerships, collaborations, and information exchange that can lead to business growth and innovation.
- 3. Training and Education: UGAFMA provides training programs, workshops, and seminars on best practices, technological advancements, and regulatory compliance, helping members improve their operations and stay updated with industry trends.
- 4. Market Information and Research: Members gain access to industry reports, market data, and research that can inform strategic decisions and competitive positioning.
- 5. Quality Assurance Support: The association helps members adhere to quality standards, ensuring that their products meet regulatory requirements and are competitive in the market.
- 6. Marketing and Promotion: UGAFMA promotes its members' products and services through various channels, increasing visibility and market reach.
- 7. Resource Sharing: Members can share resources such as equipment, facilities, and expertise, leading to cost savings and efficiency improvements.
- 8. Policy Influence: Through collective action, members can influence policies and regulations that impact the animal feeds industry, ensuring a favourable business environment.

Joining UGAFMA can thus significantly enhance a member's business prospects and operational efficiency in the animal feeds industry.